ST NICHOLAS COLE ABBEY

CENTRE FOR WORKPLACE MINISTRY

We exist to know Jesus and to make him known in the City, through Sunday and midweek bible teaching ministries. At present, St Nicholas Cole Abbey Centre for Workplace Ministry (SNCA) includes a Sunday ministry (St Nick's Church), three midweek lunchtime ministries (London Bridge Talks, Fleet Street Talks and St Nick's Talks) and a Workers' Ministry Training (WMT) course.

ST NICK'S CHURCH

St Nick's is a grass-roots initiative in partnership with the lunchtime talks (see below). In November 2016 we launched with a core group of 25 adults. Today, we are a growing diverse group of people united by the good news of Jesus, and we aim to keep the bible at the heart of everything we do. We meet on Sunday at 11am (with children's groups) and on Wednesday for our small group evening where we study a book of the bible and pray together as a church family. We also run three weekends away each year, evangelistic events, training and Christianity Explored courses, a women's bible study group and one to one bible studies.

It is our hope and prayer that many people, particularly those who work in the City, will come to know the Lord Jesus Christ through the ministry of St Nick's Church.

LUNCHTIME TALKS:

LONDON BRIDGE TALKS, FLEET STREET TALKS, ST NICK'S TALKS

The lunchtime talks are part of a wider organisation of workplace ministries in central London called Gospel at Work. Our aim is to preach the gospel publicly so that people across the City and beyond might hear it. Christians are encouraged to join us each week: to stand with the gospel, to bring colleagues to hear the gospel, to grow as the bible is taught and to be equipped and encouraged to speak the gospel in their offices and beyond.

We also run Partnership groups, Christianity Explored, Evangelism Training, one to one bible studies and evangelistic events.

WORKERS' MINISTRY TRAINING

Workers' Ministry Training (WMT) is a one year scheme designed to provide training in bible handling and teaching for Christians who work in the city. Our trainees often join the scheme because they don't have any formal training opportunities available at their local church, or because they are not yet ready or able to do a full-time training scheme.

Our aim is to develop gospel priorities, ministry mindsets, convictions about word ministry and the ability to understand and teach the bible clearly.
