

Women's worker – from summer 2018

St Andrew the Great is a city centre church in Cambridge. The congregation is a mixture of residents of Cambridge and students. Our aim is 'The gospel to Cambridge, gospel workers to the world.'

We are seeking to recruit a full-time women's worker, to lead the work among the large number of women in our 10am congregation. The role involves arranging Bible studies, personal work among women, and training women in pastoral care and evangelism. The post-holder will be well-trained in the Bible in agreement with the church's ethos, as well as having the necessary people skills. The post holder will become a member of the church's senior staff team

For further information about the role, please contact the church office at church.office@stag.org. Application deadline: 18th December, 2017.

Youth worker – from summer 2018

St Andrew the Great is a city centre church in Cambridge. The congregation is a mixture of residents of Cambridge and students. Our aim is 'The gospel to Cambridge, gospel workers to the world.'

We are seeking to recruit a full-time youth worker, to support and develop our well-established work across the 11-18 age range and, in particular, to lead our 14-18s work. The role involves planning and delivering Bible teaching and other youth events, training and encouraging other youth work leaders, and pastoral care and evangelism with young people. We would provide appropriate training and oversight and opportunities to be involved in other aspects of church life, dependent on experience and gifts. The post-holder will have relevant training in Bible teaching, have experience of work with teenagers and be in agreement with the church's ethos.

For further information about the role, please contact the church office at church.office@stag.org. Application deadline: 18th December, 2017.
